The Agricultural Stewardship Association (ASA) protects our community's working farms and forests, connects people to the land, and promotes a vibrant future for agriculture and forestry in the region.

As of March 31, 2019, we had assisted landowners with the conservation of 22,000 acres of productive land in Washington and Rensselaer counties.

CAMBRIDGE COMMUNITY FOREST

“Taking students to the forest provides an excellent opportunity for interdisciplinary and experiential learning. The outcome will be students who are enthusiastic and engaged in their learning. This leads to increased academic achievement in all disciplines. Outdoor education also builds the problem solving and decision-making skills that are necessary to address complex environmental issues.”

- Beth O’Grady, Cambridge Central School

Soon a reality

ASA reached a major milestone in 2018-19. Through contributions from individuals and grants from the Open Space Institute (OSI) and Fields Pond, ASA purchased forested land just outside the Village of Cambridge. The property will be owned by ASA and managed for public use. The 140 acres of forest will offer hiking, mountain biking, bird watching, fishing in White Creek, picnic spots and demonstration sites for sustainable forestry management.

The property is within easy walking and biking distance of downtown Cambridge and the Cambridge Central School. It will be a recreation place for the community, providing children a place to explore nature and educators an outdoor classroom.

With community participation, ASA will create a Land Management Plan during the coming year to address improvements, trail design, forest management and the long-term stewardship of the property.

Additional fundraising to repair the existing bridge, create a small parking area and install informational signage is needed to prepare the site for public use. Community conservation changes lives and transforms communities. We need your involvement, your ideas and your gifts. Together, we will make it a reality!

“I have been painting in Washington County for a good third of a century and more than half of the places I have grown to love and cherish have been lost to private development.”

- Harry Orlyk, Salem, NY Landscape painter and 15-year donor

Our goal is in sight

We're almost there! When ASA launched the Forever Farmland Campaign in 2016, our goal of raising $1.9 million seemed staggering. We're thrilled to share that the campaign has raised more than $1.6 million thanks to our committee members and generous donors.

The campaign has funded the conservation of 41 farms which represent nearly 10,600 acres of farmland. Twenty of the projects have been completed and another 21 are in process. We have spent or committed a total of $1,253,182 on project costs including stewardship, transaction and easement acquisition expenses.

The remaining funds to be raised will help leverage public farmland protection funds as well as incentivize landowners to donate easements. We need the help of people like you to reach our goal.

-Dave Horn, Forever Farmland Committee Chair

LAND CONSERVATION

Historic number of properties conserved in 2018-19

This year has been a banner year for farmland and forest conservation. Donor support enabled ASA to close on 14 conservation easements and complete an easement transfer of 897 acres from the Open Space Institute.

In August 2018, ASA submitted eight applications to New York State's farmland protection program for eight local farms. Every one of our applications was successful. New York State will provide ASA with $4.5 million to conserve 2,811 acres in Washington and Rensselaer counties as a result.

There was more good news. New York State made $30 million additional dollars available to help struggling dairy farmers across our state. ASA applied for seven awards. Again, all seven applications were successful. ASA was awarded more than $3.6 million to protect 2,028 acres of land owned by dairy farmers in FY 2018-2019. These farmers will use the funding to diversify their operations or transition ownership to either the next generation or a new owner while ensuring the land remains forever available for agricultural use.

Rensselaer County Properties Conserved as Forever Farmland

1. Schmidt Farm*

David Schmidt

214 acres – Pittstown

Sale of the development rights will allow 87-year-old David Schmidt to retire and sell the operation to his farm assistant.

2. Tilledale Farm*

Dany and Joanne Tilley

266 acres – Hoosick

This organic farm raises beef cattle and pigs and sells their meat at three area farmers' markets. The Tilleys conserved their land to ensure it will be affordable for a new farmer when they retire.

3. Wagner Farms*

Louise, Pete and Robert Wagner

300 acres – Brunswick and Poestenkill

Thanks to the Wagner family, some of the most productive land on the outskirts of Troy has been protected forever.

4. SherMar Farm*

Marjorie Herrington

92 acres – Hoosick

This farmland is used as support land for Tilledale Farm.

5. GEM Farms (3 easements) *

David, George, John and Samuel Mesick;

Olga Swartz and Resa Ostrander

555 acres – Schodack

Ten generations of Mesicks have worked GEM Farms. Now it's protected for the next 10 generations. The Mesick family raises buffalo, beef cattle, hay, soybeans and vegetables. ASA's partnership with Scenic Hudson made the protection of GEM Farms possible.

* Funding for these projects was provided by the New York State Environmental Protection Fund administered by the Department of Agriculture and Markets

Protecting farmland and forests forever

ASA accepts easement transfer

In early 2019, the Open Space Institute (OSI) transferred the easement on 879 acres of conserved farmland owned by George, Eric and Leslie Allen to ASA. The property, which is located on the Hudson River in Easton, was considered as the site for a nuclear power reactor in the 1970s. OSI conserved the farm before selling it to the Allen family.

Stewarding the land

As the number of conserved properties grows, so does ASA's commitment to steward the easements and protect these working landscapes forever. Our stewardship team collaborated with landowners to conduct site visits to all 131 conserved properties. Farmland and woodlots were monitored on foot and in small aircraft through the assistance of our conservation partners at LightHawk. As part of ongoing landowner relationship building, ASA hosted workshops geared toward our easement landowners on topics such as pond management, agroforestry and silvopasture practices; chainsaw safety training; farm viability and land assessment. ASA thanked our landowners with a Johnny Cash Tribute featuring great music from a Rockabilly Hall of Fame artist and delicious local food.

Washington County Properties Conserved as Forever Farmland

6. Richview Farms (2 easements) *

Dan and Erin Richards

167 acres – Greenwich

The Richards diversified their dairy operation and opened Bunker Hill Creamery to bottle their own organic milk.

7. Manx Station (easement donation)

Glenwood Rowse

174 acres – Cambridge

This farm raises grass-fed Belted Galloway beef that is sold directly to customers through the Lewis Waite Farm CSA.

8. Simply Grazin' (2 easements) *

Mark and Lynne Faille

505 acres – Hartford and Fort Ann

Simply Grazin' raises organic grass-fed beef and pork sold through Whole Foods, Wegmans and Fresh Direct. This property was ASA's first conservation easement in the Town of Hartford.

9. Roome Property (easement donation)

Hugh and Kathy Roome

275 acres – Jackson

A local dairy farmer currently leases this acreage for support land.

10. Hepatica Farm

Arthur Kraamwinkel and Melanie Seserman

95 acres – Greenwich

Working with Equity Trust, this farm was protected and then transferred at an affordable price to young farmers who are creating a diversified, biodynamic farm with poultry, pork, lamb, vegetables and dairy.

1,427 acres in Rensselaer County!

“Each year I feel moved as I stand out back looking at the flats as they are turned over. It would be a shame for them to be developed. It’s the best land we own and it’s the best land in Rensselaer County.”

- Louise Wagner of Wagner Farms, Poestenkill, NY
conserved 300 acres of farmland in December 2018

1,216 acres in Washington County!

“Holy cow - 15 projects in one year! Two conservation easements in a year used to be a lot. Great work Teri and team.”

FINANCIAL SUMMARY

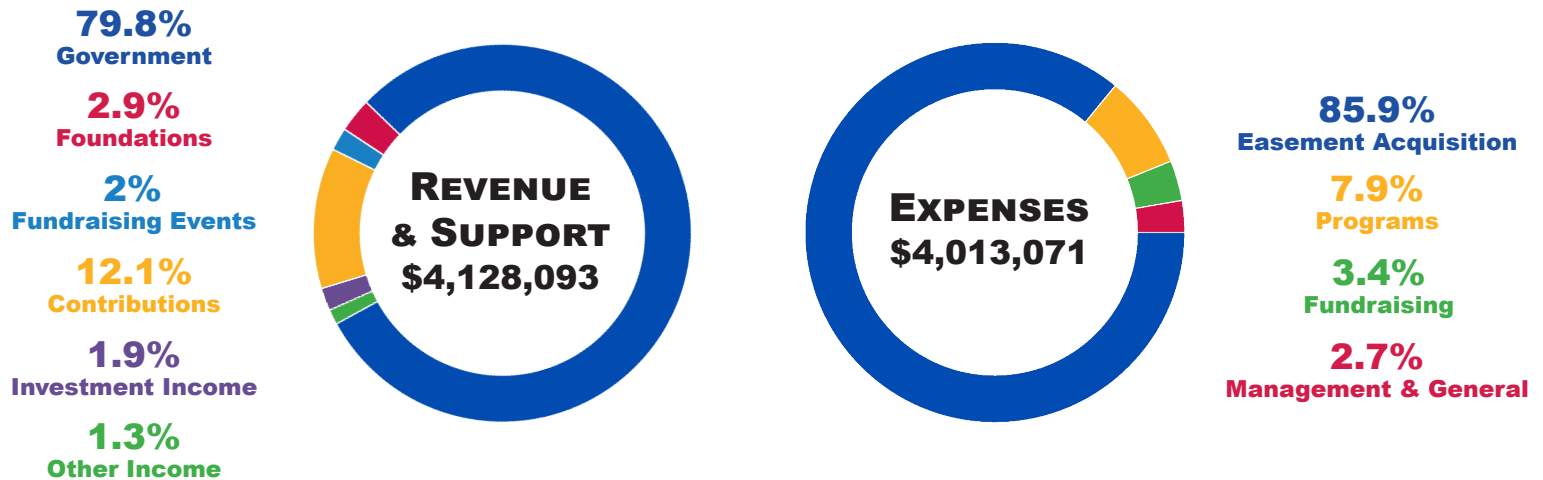

Your generosity has allowed ASA to move forward conserving land, supporting our farmers and engaging our community.

Our purchase of the 140-acre Cambridge Community Forest will make it possible for us to engage more of our community and protect this forest land for future generations. Your support also made possible additional conservation projects. We are well on our way to conserving 24,000 acres by 2020 and protecting the way of life that is so important to our region.

Thank you for your generous donation of time and treasure. It is greatly appreciated.

Ways to Make an Impact

Donations to ASA

Your tax-deductible gifts of cash, stock, mutual fund shares or donor-advised funds support ASA's annual operating expenses, the Forever Farmland Campaign, the Cambridge Community Forest project and commemorative memorials.

Employer Matching Gift

Maximize your impact by asking your company to match your gift to ASA. Send your employer's matching gift form to ASA with your donation.

Monthly Giving

Make a difference every single month and ensure ASA has a steady stream of income to protect the rural heritage that you care about. Credit card or bank account donations are convenient and environmentally friendly.

Business Sponsorships

Showcase your business and benefit by sponsoring ASA's diverse community programs and events. Want a customized package? We'll design it for you.

Planned Giving

Legacy gifts are indispensable to ASA. Your gift in the form of a trust, life insurance, stocks and bonds, property, antique auto, fine jewelry, gift annuity or bequest empowers ASA to conserve and steward farmland and forests forever.

Volunteer

Don't miss out on opportunities to share your time and talents with ASA. You'll enjoy meeting fellow conservationists and making valuable contributions to our community.
